STEWARDSHIP TIES

There is a lot of imagery around Christmas that has to do with adoption — or, more specifically, with a child being loved by another as if they belonged to that person and loved in such a profound way that in time, they do come to belong to that person.

We see this with Joseph and the infant Jesus. Joseph is not Jesus' biological father. But through a series of actions, and through his faithfulness in small, everyday matters, Joseph becomes the foster father of Jesus.

Perhaps we are parents who have adopted children, or we ourselves were adopted. We have also seen how, through a series of actions of love and sacrifice, someone can become the parent of a person who is not their "blood." A lot of times these families celebrate the day of the adoption. I've heard it called a "gotcha day," and it's marked joyously, like a birthday.

Most of us are not descended from the Israelites, God's Chosen People. But through a series of extraordinary actions of love and sacrifice, God has made Himself our parent, too. And through our own actions, and through faithfulness in small and everyday matters, we are His children.

But in this family, instead of blood ties, we have stewardship ties. It's not about who we look like, it's about how we treat one another. How we take care of one another.

So this Christmas, let's think about how we will celebrate our adoption. As much as it is Jesus' birthday, it's also our "gotcha day" — the day we received the gift of eternal family.

Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS ©LP

Dear Believers,

The gospel on the first Sunday of Advent greeted us with powerful imagery – with Jesus speaking “of signs in the sun, the moon and the stars” and his urgent appeal to be vigilant and ready to stand before the Son of Man.

The readings set an intriguing tone as we entered a season beloved for its preparation and reverence for the miracle of the incarnation. Yet, as we pondered the reality of a cosmic or cataclysmic Second Coming at the onset of Advent, our thoughts jolted us to the profound compassion and love of God who sent our savior, Jesus Christ, an infant born of a virgin in a humble manger.

This, too, is powerful – the Nativity story is one of immense grace that should stir if not compel in us a sensational awakening. Perhaps, again. Perhaps, anew. Why? Because it is THIS story that makes possible our future story.

In our awakening to the hope, joy and love of Christ’s message, the peace of this season and, indeed, the very peace of life manifests itself.

I invite you to immerse yourself in our Good Shepherd Parish community and awaken your faith beyond any perceived limits, or sameness, or routine of before. Seek to encounter Christ personally, to accompany others who may not yet know the fullness of faith, and share in the beauty of each other in community, striving to grow as missionary disciples. Most of all, I pray that we may continue vigilantly as believers and beneficiaries of Christ’s wondrous gift of salvation.

On behalf of our parochial vicar, Father Julius Kiogora Kaburu, our deacons, parish staff and myself, we wish you God’s abundant blessings throughout Christmas and the New Year.

In love of Christ our Savior,
Reverend Michael Vaughan, Pastor
